Richmond, VA (April 2, 2008)—Prospective students and parents are invited to learn more about J. Sargeant Reynolds Community College at "First View"—an Open House targeting students interested in enrolling at the College in the fall.

Those attending will learn about the admissions process, financial aid and scholarship opportunities, academic program offerings and student life programming. Campus tours, entertainment and free hot dogs will also be provided during the event.

"First View is an opportunity for prospective students and families to get an up-close and personal look of J. Sargeant Reynolds Community College," said Tracy Green, director of outreach and recruitment. "We hope students will come away from our open house with valuable information and the feeling that Reynolds is the right college for them to continue their education."

The event is free and open to the public. No pre-registration is required. For more information call (804) 371-3000 or visit www.Reynolds.edu.

Serving over 18,000 students annually, J. Sargeant Reynolds Community College is the youngest and third largest of 23 community colleges in Virginia. The College operates three campuses serving residents in the City of Richmond and the counties of Henrico, Hanover, Goochland, Powhatan and Louisa.
